

A landmark should mark the same spot on everyone, and some do not

Every landmark of one tooth, over up to 250 patients, after position, orientation and size have been removed. The centroid is not predicted by the network, so it says how much the crown itself varies.